Me, My Practice and Professional Activities

I am a Partner at the disputes-only firm, Enyo Law LLP, based in London. I specialise in high value international commercial disputes, with a heavy side order of civil fraud. I also sit as an Examiner of the High Court, pursuant to CPR 34.15.

I am currently the Treasurer of the Bar and am already re-elected to that post for 2027. I have previously served as Chair of the Bar Association for Commerce, Finance and Industry (2012-5); Chair of the Employed Barristers' Committee (2017 & 2019); Chair of the Annual Bar Conference (2018); and Co-Chair of the Bar Representation Committee (2020-2023).

I chaired Gray's Inn Barristers' Committee (2020), and now as a Bencher, I am the Master of Scholarships (2025-2028), having served as the Master of Events (2022-2025).

In all these roles, I have always strived to improve the lives of barristers and those hoping to enter this fantastic profession. From lobbying to maintain the Practising Certificate Fees at inflation (or preferably lower!); to removing restrictions on employed barristers sitting as part-time Judges; to pushing for Court ID cards - I passionately believe in the One Bar ethos - and that fierce independent legal analysis and advice, unites us all.

What I Can Offer the Bar Council

I can offer the Bar Council enthusiasm, dedication and institutional memory.

It is a privilege to have previously been elected to the Bar Council. I have been honoured to serve to date, but there is always more to do, and I do feel I still have so much more to offer!

I would relish the opportunity to continue to push for changes that reflect the rapidly evolving times.

For example, the huge expense and regulatory burden of unregistered barristers which falls on the practising Bar; or the deferral of Call into Pupillage, need to be considered anew.

Motivation for Standing

As the incoming Treasurer of the Bar for 2027, I wish to be re-elected to the Bar Council, as I believe that this gives me democratic legitimacy.

It has always been a genuine privilege to advocate on behalf of my fellow barristers and to utilise my skills for ensuring the maximum benefits for us all - and I sincerely hope to be able to continue to fulfil that role.
